West Bars New Session Of Big Four

To Press Charges Against Russians Despite Threats

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The western powers rejected today a Russian bid for a new meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, and decided to press their charges against Russia in the United Nations despite a Soviet boycott threat.

The decision to reject the Russian proposal for a new Big Four council meeting was reached by the foreign ministers of the western powers. They were in session at the same time the Security Council was debating whether to put the Berlin crisis on its agenda. It is assumed without a decision.

Foreign minister V. M. Molotov dispatched from Moscow last night the new Soviet manoeuvre against UN consideration of the Berlin problem. The first western reaction was that the feiler from Moscow would be rejected unless the Russians agreed to the unconditional removal of the Berlin blockade.

Secretary of State George Marshall, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met for more than two hours and agreed formally to the proposal.

Should the proposal be approved, the Security Council was in session for three hours and 21 minutes. It will meet at 3 p.m. 17 Oct. again tomorrow.

The proposal was made by the exhibition Association in line with previously announced plans of the exhibition grounds.

Should the proposal be approved, it is expected that a rearrangement of the layout for the summer exhibition would be made to provide a wider use of land, buildings and equipment.

Details of the proposal will be presented to City Council, probably when it meets next Monday.

Man Killed In Accident Near Lloyd.

LLOYDMINSTER, Oct. 4.—(CP)—A one-way street accident killed a second seriously injured following a road accident near here Saturday night.

Dead to Bert Killick, 24, of Mordach, Sask.

Jack Poole, 16, also of Mordach, is in hospital suffering from two broken legs and other injuries.

Both were members of a Saskatoon provincial government road construction crew which is hard surfacing the Meridian road.

A coroner's jury was told Sunday that the accident occurred in a town with two companions Saturday evening when they were struck by a car.

Driver of the car was said to be Kenneth Sweet of Lloydminster. Two of the men, who were walking outside of the road, said they were able to leap aside and escape with only slight scratches and bruises.

The accident occurred about three-quarters of a mile south of the town of Lloydminster.

The inquest into the death was adjourned until 8:30 p.m. tonight at which time the accident will be re-narrated at the site.

A coroner's jury is expected to return a verdict on the death of Dr. G. L. Cooke.

Kenneth Sweet, alleged driver of the car which was said to have struck the men, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooke.

He was married about six weeks ago.

The accident was described as "the worst in many years."

Robert Carson, an RCMP constable, was the pilot of one of the planes.

Gene Lanthier of Montreal, manager of the Montreal Canadiens, and Montreal and Laurentide Flyers, left, pilot of the other aircraft.

Miss Yolande Lemire and Gilles Audet, passengers in Lanthier's plane, were heading for a landing on the same night.

Lanthier's aircraft, a Blenheim, burst into flames when it crashed into a small field on J. Labelle's farm near the airport. Lanthier and his two companions were burned to death before eye-witnesses could reach the scene.

The other plane, piloted by Carson, was a crash landing 100 feet away. Carson was taken to hospital and died less than an hour after admission.

It was sitting on the beach of the tiny island, 135 miles east of the coast of Florida.

"Have located missing plane. Personnel apparently good condition. Personal luggage apparently intact."

A Coast Guard flying boat arrived at the scene a few minutes after the first search plane reported, and said "people were walking around on the beach."

The DC-3, carrying 19 passengers and a crew of four, reported itself lost and out of fuel after leaving somewhere over the Atlantic. All returning were Puerto Ricans returning to San Juan.

Samuel J. Zacks, president of the Canadian Zionist organization, in a message issued on the eve of the Jewish New Year, said the political and military policy of Israel must be the responsibility of the people of that Jewish state, he said, "is based on humanity and respect for the United Nations."

The Nation

Louis Eisen, Montreal editor of "The Nation," Union of Electricians Party in Quebec, told the Quebec district convention of the party on Oct. 3, that the Pope had not pronounced himself on whether war is "just."

Two U.S. biologists, who flew to the Yukon and Alaska this summer, confessed today they have still not found the home nesting ground of the whooping crane, which they said, they will comb the Great Bear Lake-Great Slave Lake region, which they described as "promising."

A British Labor member of parliament, Richard Crossman, proposed that the western powers fly 2,000,000 or more German from blacked Berlin to the western sectors, he said, would leave the west in a "stronger position to decide on our own terms whether to keep troops in Berlin."

An officer and three soldiers of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry were killed and another five soldiers were wounded when they were surprised by terrorists while swimming in a jungle pool. A covering party killed two and wounded several more of the raiders.

A British government spokesman, George Brown, said today that the Communist Daily Worker that plans have been laid to evacuate the British government departments to Canada in the event of war. In the meantime, the demolition of air raid shelters has been stopped and air raid sirens are being repaired.

Atomic Age

Two U.S. air strategists, speaking unofficially, said they believe the U.S. can win another war in from two to three months by a "super blitz" of atomic bombs, dropping them in small force of planes. They claim that "sustained bombing" as practiced in the second World War, is already a thing of the past. The spokesmen were Col. Frederick L. Moore and Maj. Dale O. Smith, both of the U.S.A.F.

Politics

Howard Blackstone, Associated Press science editor, said today the atomic age has produced no important peace-time results to balance the scale against its destructive power. Most progress, he said, is still coming from atomic bombs and radioactive weapons.

Both U.S. presidential candidates, Henry Truman and Dwight D. Dewey, have completed the first round of their election campaign. Truman made his first swing through the west coast in which he made 130 speeches, and definitely took the role of challenger in the battle Dewey, it was said, planned his campaign more on the calm-and-confident-champion style, similar to those of F. D. Roosevelt.

A report that Mark C. Senn, Progressive Conservative member for Haldimand, Ont., will resign to leave his seat open for the party's next leader, George Drew, was denied by B. L. Edgcombe, president of the Haldimand Progressive Conservative Association. The seat has been Conservative since 1904.

A former Halifax newspaper editor, C. F. (Fred) Fraser, has been sounded out by some leading Nova Scotia Progressive Conservatives as a possible candidate for the leadership of the party in that province. Fraser, of his name came as a complete surprise to many as he is not even a member of the party.

Trade & Industry

Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the eve of his departure after attending the third annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund in Washington, said Britain will soon sign an agreement for the Economic Co-operative Administration for $50,000,000 for British industrial recovery. "Our plan is to get back on our feet in four years," he said.

Vigorous Spirit Drew Attribute

Has Many Political Foes Despite His Popularity

By Wm. "Buddy" Murphy
Edmonton Bulletin Staff Reporter

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—Hon. George Drew, chief of the Progressive Conservative party, a colorful figure, an admiral by some and greatly disliked by others.

It is possibly for this reason the 130 delegates attending the party's convention here chose him as the party's leader. The Progressive Conservatives are seeking a revitalizing force, a vigorous spirit able to restore former glory. It would not be possible to find a leader with the necessary vitality and at the same time without political foes.

The party wanted, not merely a man who was well-liked, but a man aggressive enough to put life into the party and thereby draw public support. Delegates to the convention, by their large draw vote, believe they have found the man.

GAIN FOR NATION
The Progressive Conservative party will also mean gain for the country, Canada's parliamentary system is designed for and functions best, with two strong parties in the roles of government and opposition.

Revitalizing of the Progressive Conservative party has baffled good men in the past. Time will show if Mr. Drew can accomplish this task. His political future and the immediate fortunes of the Progressive Conservative party hinge on the outcome of his leadership.

Announcement that the Ontario Progressive Conservative party had elected the first vote threw the packed convention hall into tumult. Thousands stood and cheered and shouted their acclaim of their new leader. The man who will guide the party and all the people of Canada.

SHOWS GRATIFICATION
Gratification shone on the hands of some of the Ontario premier, who said the result of the ballot was proof that the people of Ontario had been somewhat tempered by the man who had given them the party by the convention.

The assignment was "win the next federal election." As he faced the sea of cheering faces and the immediate future of the party and the confidence it with determination and confidence. He said, "I am not a man who will be defeated in my hour of defeat, congratulating Premier Drew, referred to the unity that existed in the party and requested delegates to make Mr. Drew's election unanimous."

Donald Fleming said he is now a national leader and I shall follow him loyally." As he seconded Diefenbaker's motion for the unanimous election of Mr. Drew, John Bracken referred to Drew, Diefenbaker and Fleming as "three great Canadians" asked all Progressive Conservatives to go before the country as "one great united party."

Hon. Thomas Kennedy, minister of agriculture, will be setting out the policy of Ontario when Mr. Drew returns from that post. Whether or not Mr. Kennedy will remain in the premiership permanently will be decided at the Ontario convention of the party to be held in Toronto next month.

Rumor in Ottawa was that no permanent leader would be selected at that meeting, but if one is to be selected the most probable choice will be George (Tracy) Gray who represents Peel in the House of Commons.

Even as the two men spoke, Secretary of State George C. Marshall was meeting with the British and French foreign ministers at the French foreign office to confirm their rejection of the Russian proposal, unless the Soviet blockade of Berlin is lifted unconditionally.

In two passages of his speech, a 22-minute trade repeating the now-familiar Russian charges against the western powers.—Vishinsky made clear that he was warning the Soviet Council that Russia would boycott its consideration of the dispute.

George Drew Chosen New Leader of Tories

Drew said the convention had shown through its resolution that the party is both progressive and "Tory Conservative" in adhering to those basic rights and constitutional traditions which are the bedrock of our democracy.

Lashing out at the present government, he said: "If this party assumes the responsibility of forming a government, the highest responsibility of government, which is the authority to spend money, will not be exercised over the radio, in some cases without even the other members of the government knowing what is going to be announced."

APPROVES PLATFORM
"Judgment by radio has come to be a well-known expression, but it is a very dangerous thing. It is these dangerous tendencies that this party should seek to fight in the open on behalf of the people of Canada, and in case when it has legislative responsibility and the administrative power."

Mr. Drew did not refer specifically to any of the resolutions which the party sought to adopt, but he did congratulate the delegates for the work they had done on the new platform plans.

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada

ESTABLISHED 1865
HOME OFFICE: WATERLOO, ONT.
October 1, 1948.

To our Policyholders:
On September 28, the volume of insurance in force in our Company passed the billion dollar mark. This outstanding achievement is highly significant in that 98% of this insurance is on the lives of people in Canada and Newfoundland—for this is a Canadian company operated for Canadians.

It is a notable milestone in the progress of our Company—a long stride forward since those days over 78 years ago, when the founders had to sell five hundred policies before they could secure Government permission to operate a mutual life insurance company.

But, it means more than this. It is proof of the public's ever-growing consciousness of the advantages of mutual life insurance.

It is proof that Mutual Life of Canada policies fit the needs of Canadians in all walks of life.

It is proof of intelligent and sympathetic service by the Company's representatives.

It is proof that this Company has won a leading place in the confidence of the Canadian public.

The policyholders are to be congratulated on this achievement which has been due largely to the confidence they have shown in the Company by recommending it to their friends and by keeping their own insurance in force through the years.

Young Farmand n Murder Trial

Pleads 'Not Guilty'
Trial Set For Oct. 12

Showing little concern, outwardly at least, youthful Mike Zacharuk, Spadina district farmhand, pleaded not guilty today of murdering his employer, William Pachelko. Zacharuk is accused of shooting the farmer he worked for on the latter's farm last May, and disposing of the body.

Appearing before Mr. Justice S. J. Sheppard at the opening of the fall criminal court sittings here today, Zacharuk pleaded not guilty in a clear voice.

A jury trial of the case was set for Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 10 a.m.

Ned D. Maclean, K.C. is defending and W. J. Shortreed, K.C. is prosecuting.

LONGEST EVER
The Zacharuk case is the only murder trial on the docket.

There were 19 cases listed for hearing at a supreme criminal court session that will extend over six weeks, one of the longest on record here.

Zacharuk was dressed in a red and brown windbreaker and wore no collar or tie.

When Mr. Justice Sheppard did not hear his plea the first time so accused repeated "Not guilty" in a steady voice.

UNDER ESCORT
He was taken from the courtroom under escort of two red-coated RCMP officers immediately after trial of trial was fixed by the judge.

Not guilty pleas were entered by two persons accused of manslaughter.

Each elected for trial by judge alone.

Cases are George Hupka, who faces the charge as a result of a highway accident near the city, and the second is that of Thomas F. Reid, charged as the result of an alleged abortion drive in Edmonton.

The woman who died as a result of the alleged abortion was Miss Verle Holman, 19, of Sunnysburg. Death is said to have occurred around June 19.

Both Reid and Hupka will stand trial in the week of Oct. 25.

Charge Brings Court Protest

First man to be charged in an Edmonton court with being "a habitual criminal," Ronald V. Stanley, touched off legal fireworks as supreme criminal court sittings opened here Monday.

Originally charged with possession of narcotic drugs, Stanley had pleaded not guilty to a preliminary supreme court hearing and his case set for trial on Tuesday.

When he appeared before Mr. Justice Sheppard today, Crown prosecutor W. J. Shortreed, federal department of justice, had an amended charge read to accused.

Added to the narcotics count were "words," said to be a habitual criminal.

Complications set in after Mr. Shortreed explained that Stanley must only plead at this time to the narcotics charge. If he pleads guilty to the charge, then the Crown will proceed with the habitual criminal charge, he explained.

The reading of the portion charging "habitual" criminality was "only" to be read to the accused, Crown counsel explained.

His Lordship was also confused at this stage stating he did not know how one could be split, Mr. Shortreed quoted from a court decision to show the proper procedure.

W. J. Neumann, defence counsel, argued the whole charge was as Stanley had already pleaded not guilty to the narcotics count. On advice of Stanley, Stanley was ordered to elect to the intended charge.

The court then ordered a plea of guilty entered to the narcotics charge, and the case will come up again during the week of Oct. 26.

Air Cadets Plan Large Expansion

Big expansion program of No. 12 Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, was announced here today by S. L. Frank J. Edwards, commanding officer of the unit.

The Edmonton air cadet unit is planning to develop a wing of three squadrons and today is launching a three-day recruiting campaign.

Recruiting will be carried on at the Recreation Building tonight and Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Boys from 14 to 18 years of age are eligible for enlistment.

The expansion of the Edmonton unit was undertaken with the view of increasing the number of boys who may take advantage of the training offered by the Royal Canadian Air Cadets.

Another benefit coming from the expansion is an increased establishment of officers and instructors, which will allow more efficient training.

The air cadet syllabus covers a four-year training period and includes such subjects as air navigation, meteorology, radio, meteorology, photography and radio.

For cadets who have special interest in certain subjects the squadron organizes clubs to study additional practical instruction. One of the most popular last year was the photography club. The members met once a week in addition to regular training to study photography and in the spring took aerial shots from a 418 Squad air cadet aircraft.

Various other clubs were organized this year, a radio club is being formed. The squadron already has its own transmitter and receiver which will be operated by the cadets.

The squadron has special awards to offer to cadets. These include RCAP flying scholarships, an exchange trip in either United States or Great Britain and two weeks summer camp.

Wage Parleys Will Resume

Representatives of eight city unions will meet this week in an other phase of wage negotiations in which they are seeking a 12 per cent annual increase.

A meeting held last Friday ended in "no agreement." This week's meeting will be conducted by Mr. E. Hendrickson, provincial government conciliator.

His Lordship would bring the minimum scale for drivers to 50 cents an hour, and for warehousemen, approximately 46 cents an hour.

Also due to go into conciliation session is the Teamsters' Union dispute. This involves a 15-cent increase for drivers and a 10-cent increase for 65 NAD employees.

A new state of affairs for West Edmonton Business Association will be elected at the first fall meeting of the group on Thursday.

The meeting will be in the form of a supper meeting and will be held at the 114th Street Hotel.

Business concerning west end business will be discussed.

British Industrialists
Laud Alberta Prospects

Alberta's industrial potential is being pointed out to visiting British industrialists.

An 11-man British Engineering Mission, presently touring Canada, made this statement at a press conference in Edmonton today.

One member of the delegation confided that in his opinion the two farthest western provinces can look forward to a "brightest prospect" in industrial development.

The British visitors represent a cross-section of the British engineering, industry, and commerce, and are accompanied by representatives of the British government.

TRADE OFFICERS, TOO
With them are C. Bennett of the Engineering Division of the British Ministry of Supply, Peter Young and B. S. Lowe, from His Majesty's Trade Commission offices in Montreal and Vancouver.

All members of the mission expressed particular interest in the engineering problems of the oil industry in Alberta.

With regard to pipe, Mr. Bennett said, "It is very difficult but we are going to do our best."

Members of the mission thought of their purpose as three fold, based on the study of engineering equipment needs of Canada's expanding industries.

PROMISE CO-OPERATION
They will, they said, assure all possible advantages in British engineering production.

They also intend to improve Britain's selling organization in Canada, and pay particular attention to supplying equipment at competitive prices within a reasonable time.

In view of the existing oil situation, the British mission is in the interest of both Canada and Great Britain, to increase the maximum trading between the two countries.

The expansion of Canadian industry, they believe, will reveal tremendous possibilities for expansion of British engineering exports.

There are large quantities of British capital which could be invested in Canada, they said, but stressed the fact that the British can only invest here by buying Canadian dollars.

19 Traffic Accidents
Reported at Weekend

Two persons received slight injury, five were charged with dangerous driving, and one was charged with negligent driving as a result of 19 weekend traffic accidents in Edmonton.

Charles Ragan, of 116 street, was charged with dangerous driving when he crashed his 1934 Ford into a ditch on 57th street, near 127 avenue, on Mr. Kenneth William De Forest, 1020 52 street, who was bruised on the head when his auto in which was being driven by Ragan, was turned over. She did not require hospital treatment.

Mr. De Forest, who was driving the car which turned over, told police it was struck in the rear by a truck as he was going down 50th street shortly before 2 a.m. Sunday. The accident occurred as he slowed down to turn onto 50th street. Healed over by the force of the impact, the top of the car came off and the car was pushed into the ditch on the east side of 50th street.

Considerable damage was done to the top and both sides of the auto.

Driver of the truck, Jacob E. Hode of Clover Bar, said he was following De Forest down the hill at a distance of 25 feet and was unable to avoid ramming the rear of De Forest's auto when the latter slowed down.

Five motorists charged with dangerous driving were Charles Ragan; Joseph Courtneaye, Thomas James Hunt, John O'Neill, 9127 96 street; Gordon Wilson, 8124 street; and John O'Neill, city street drivers; Ragan, O'Neill, and Wilson who pleaded not guilty, were remanded to future hearings in police court today.

Courtneaye was involved in collision with an auto driven by George M. Malland on the St. Albert Trail shortly before 11 a.m. Sunday. He ran into the rear of the latter's auto and pushed it ahead for some distance as he was travelling towards Edmonton.

The White Man's Privilege

For a period of two weeks, commencing today, the Community Chest of Edmonton will canvas for $148,500 to meet the needs of its 27 member agencies for the next twelve months.

With regard to this campaign, it should be first noted that those circumstances which impose a load on the household's budget have also been a factor in the amount of money needed by the Chest.

The Chest appeal involves a larger sum this year because 30 percent of the Chest money will be used for food and nearly 40 percent for services. The cost of each has materially increased.

Whatever control may be exercised over other items in the budget, these two are determined by factors that are as far beyond the control of the Chest as the price of butter is beyond the control of the housewife.

Moreover, the growth of the city and its population will place an additional strain upon the facilities of each of the 27 institutions to be supported through this campaign.

Thus, not only is the larger sum essential this year, but Edmonton people will have to look forward to greater increases as the city enlarges.

The second point to be considered in budgeting generously for the demands of the Community Chest drive is that the response of the public is not a matter of social duty but a matter of social privilege.

There is a very vital duty, of course, in the support of organizations that make life tolerable and, in some cases, possible for the weak and the ailing and the unfortunate.

But the aspect of duty is inconceivable beside the aspect of privilege.

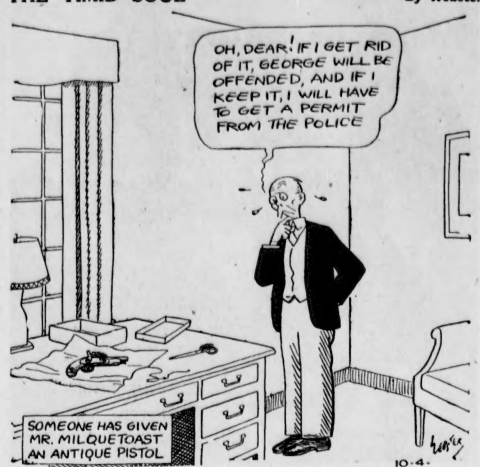

It is a high privilege, for instance, to be part of a way of life which makes it possible to squeeze out those little surpluses, with whatever effort, which can be offered in aid of a fellow man.

It is a privilege to live under a social system which makes the support of benign agencies a matter of choice instead of a matter of compulsion.

All these contribute to the happy circumstances surrounding such appeals.

For it is a happiness rather than a duty.

Editor, Bulletin—First, I want to congratulate the section which is as just as important to me as the women's page and Dorothy Dix for some of the best reading material in the city. My fingers have been on my paper and pen in two bits with it. I have refrained from doing so as much of it did not come too close to home as the recent job by "The Union" (Oct. 29th edition, in regards to not liking the noise of a little merry-making at a wedding. I really wonder if you have not been so busy with your own wedding as to not have a fair view of the matter.

It is not the significance of bringing in the bride and groom, but the fact that it is a time when they are together, and it is a time when they are together, and it is a time when they are together.

Fake Cures Should Be Banned

The British Columbia government has done well to expose the claims of a self-styled healer who says he can cure arthritis with a compound of gin, water and other silly ingredients. But the gentleman proposes to register his nostrum under the Pure Food and Drug Act and go right ahead dispensing it to the credulous.

There is nothing to prevent him doing it. Provided his concoction contains nothing harmful and if he refrains from using the word "cure" on his labels, he can sell it to his heart's content.

There should be some legal way of restraining the activities of fakers who prey on the suffering of ailing persons.

It is not enough to expose the fallacy of their treatment as British Columbia has done in this case. It is not enough because, in the first place, desperate sufferers will try anything and because in the second place, there are always thousands of people who entertain the preposterous notion that the medical profession is supplying new methods of treatment for its own gain.

Fake Cures Should Be Banned

The latter is a ridiculous notion, but it persists. There is a type of mind that jumps to believe that orthodox medicine would jump at anything that would offer an authentic cure for disease and maintains that doctors are jealous of the bungling experiments of heterodox and often ignorant healers.

It is a matter of record that even after the cancer "cure" of the man Braund in Australia was exposed as sheer hocus-pocus, patients continued to flock to him. Both cancer and arthritis "cures" spring up in great number. Dr. Paul Holbrook of Tucson, Arizona, famous authority on arthritis, says there are at least 5,000 "cure cures" for that disease which are all fakes.

Something more drastic and effective than mere exposure should be designed for the restraint of these ghouls who exploit the fears and terrors of the desperate sick.

Surely some restraining law could be devised with slightly fewer loopholes than the ones that exist at present.

Pioneer Nurse Moves to Coast

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Oct. 4.—The pioneer nurse of the district, Mrs. Charles Stewart, left today to make her home in Vancouver. Mrs. Stewart, graduate of the Pioneer South Dakota hospital came with her husband and young daughter, to homestead, 20 miles south of town, in 1912.

Doctors were 50 to 70 miles away. There was another trained nurse in the district and Mrs. Stewart answered every call, day or night, usually going on horseback, as the roads were mostly trails and there were no motor cars.

Others she tended were the fevered rivers and creeks and in the winter she walked if she could not ride. In 1923 she moved into town and operated a nursing home until the hospital was built, a few years ago.

Since then, she filled in as a nurse whenever there was a shortage of nurses. Her husband died in 1945 and her only child, Mrs. H. Williams and her grand-daughter, plan on living at the coast, so Mrs. Stewart has gone to join them.

Waterways Has Bad Fire Scare

FORT McMURRAY, Oct. 4.—Residents of Waterways got a very bad fire scare Thursday about 2 p.m., when Frank Shock, manager of the Waterways hotel, noticed smoke coming out of a log building just behind Moore's pool hall. He immediately gave the fire alarm and in a very few minutes help was plentiful from both Waterways and Fort McMurray.

Fortunately, Steve McGuiness happened to have his water tank in the same back lot of water and the hose was turned on the fire.

The water truck being in close and with the brilliant work of Henry Shock and Art Grivewold, who climbed the roof of Moore's place the fire was extinguished before spreading to the pool hall although the building that burnt down was only three feet deep.

Once the pool hall did catch fire but by the continual stream of water being poured over it, they put the fire out. Had the pool hall caught fire there is not the least doubt that the whole block would have gone as the buildings in that block are almost touching each other.

The buildings which could have not been saved are the hotel, drug store, Hudson's Bay store and some dwellings.

Westlock Considers Ways to Improve Rink

WESTLOCK, Oct. 4.—Plans are under way to move the present skating rink to another site in town. Construction of a fence or wall around the new site which could be adapted to eventual closing in also was discussed at a recent meeting of members of the hockey club and skating enthusiasts.

Those attending the meeting recognize that the present rink was not suitable for proper hockey sessions and discussed ways and means of locating the rink elsewhere.

It was also proposed that a suitable figure skater from one of the larger Edmonton clubs be engaged to visit the local rink several times weekly during the winter season to give figure skating lessons to those desiring them. This would be provided at no charge to the students, save their membership in the association.

Financing difficulties were considered during the meeting which is the second in as many weeks. Most suitable means of providing funds for the venture, it was agreed, was by donation and it was agreed that already some residents of town and district had made contributions that would further the work of erection of suitable ice quarters.

Further announcements on the plan are expected as the result of future meetings, those in charge of the plan going ahead with arrangements preparatory to selection of the exact site.

Red Sox Force Pay-Off with Cleveland

Bob Feller Chased by Tigers; Boston Thumps New York Yanks

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Bob Feller was belted out of the box by a barrage of Detroit hits Sunday—and the Cleveland Indians, who looked to have the American League flag sewed up last week—now have to fight for it in a precedent-shattering play-off against the Boston Red Sox.

In Sunday's final scheduled game Cleveland needed a victory for themselves, or else a defeat for Boston, to clinch the flag, and they missed on both counts.

The Detroit Tigers beat Cleveland 7-1 when Hal Newhouse handuffed the Tribe on five hits, while the Boston Red Sox, who were two games off the pace three days ago, walloped the Yankees 10-5.

That called for the first American league tie play-off in history, and the Indians and Red Sox it this afternoon at Boston. The winner goes against the Braves in the World Series starting Wednesday.

At Cleveland Sunday Bob Feller, the Indians' ace, was knocked out by a four-run Detroit spurge in the third inning. In view of Newhouse's effectiveness, it was probably fortunate the Tigers got to Feller so soon, because the finaler probably will be Lou Boudreau's pitching choice at Boston today when the final chips are down.

FASTBALL NOT SO HOT
It simply wasn't Feller's day Sunday. His fastball wasn't so hot as the temperature stayed around a chilly 60. The Tigers teed off on his fast one from the start and when they rammed out a pair of doubles, a single and two bases on balls in the third Feller went out in favor of Sam Zolack. Zolack did not do much better. He pitched a four-run inning in the fourth and a four-run inning in the fifth. He was out of the game after the fourth.

At Boston the Red Sox, who never knew when to quit, started against New York. They got off to a fast start, scoring three runs in the first. The old big inning system worked for Joe McCarthy. His fence-baiters reloaded for the third and a four-run bundle in the first.

A left-field double by Williams that crossed up the Yankee pitcher, and a two-run double by Bobby Doerr that escaped Yogi Berra were the big hits in the third. When New York got off to a fast start, they scored three runs in the first. The old big inning system worked for Joe McCarthy. His fence-baiters reloaded for the third and a four-run bundle in the first.

LOWERS THE BOOM
In the sixth the Sox lowered the boom. They scored three runs in the first. The old big inning system worked for Joe McCarthy. His fence-baiters reloaded for the third and a four-run bundle in the first.

BOSTON TICKETS GO LIKE 'HOT CAKES'

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—In two hours and 10 minutes the Boston Red Sox were cleaned out of 23,000 grandstand tickets for Monday's pennant playoff game.

Crowds began jamming for tickets midway in the ball game Sunday—when the Sox assured themselves of a tie by beating the New York Yankees while Detroit's Tigers were beating Cleveland.

As soon as the scoreboard showed Detroit comfortably ahead of Cleveland and Don DiMaggio hit a home run to give the Sox a 6-4 lead, fans began leaving their seats to line up at ticket booths.

The club began selling tickets—a limit of four to a customer—at six o'clock. At 8:10 all were gone.

Scona Tramples Sep To Take Grid Lead

By Jim McCurly
Scona took over undisputed possession of first place in the high school senior football league at Clarke Stadium Sunday night when they bounced St. Joe's Fighting Irish 7-0.

Fullback Doug Swail struck for all the Scona points as he scored one touchdown, and he kicked a field goal and a point after touchdown.

Some of the edge was taken off the well-played game by the childish antics of certain of the spectators. The silly youngsters started three fights in the crowd of more than 1,500.

Nearly everyone in the stands rushed to see what was going on and it was fortunate that no one was injured. One of the battlers was knocked out but quickly revived. It was action of this sort that killed high school football here at least once in the past. Enthusiasm is needed but when it spills over into rowdiness it definitely is undesirable.

Getting back to the game, Scona's touchdown came in the first quarter when "Yellow Jacket" and Bill Moore recovered Bill Harte's fumble on the St. Joe's 15-yard line. Two plays later quarterback Cliff Kula flipped a flat pass to Swail who was standing in the end zone. Swail also converted to make the score 6-0.

The game's last point came on the final play when Swail kicked to the deadline from 30 yards out. The ball was in the air when the game ended.

They Couldn't Lose, But . . .

The wise guys, the percentage players said the Cleveland Indians couldn't lose it. But today Lou Boudreau and his men will be fighting for their baseball lives right in the back yard of the power-laden Boston Red Sox.

Sunday, as Bob Feller, the onetime apple-cheeked boy wonder from the Iowa cornfields, failed in the most crucial of all crucial games, history repeated itself. Back in 1940 those same Indians came down to the wire in another life and death struggle, that time with Detroit's snarling Tigers. Feller was chosen to pitch the ill-imposed contest, the one that would have given Cleveland the pennant it still seeks after 28 years.

Tigers, with rookie Floyd Giebel doing the tossing, edged Feller and friends in a 2-0 spellbinder. Yesterday another head banger did it all over again. Only this time an older and weathered Feller didn't answer the gong for the fourth inning.

No, there wouldn't be any joy in the Ohio metropolis Sunday. Even venerable, loosey-goosey Satchel Paige, high again on his big brogans and all, would no longer be so certain the Indians were going to win . . . "because we ain't gonna lose."

Significantly, for those sentimentalists who are looking for Old Satch possibly to pop up as a series hero, if the Indians still make it—he didn't get to pitch yesterday, even though Boudreau called upon just about everybody else and he'd before it was over.

Will It Be Bob Lemon?

So it will be a one-roll-of-the-dice situation in the Fenway Fens today. And if Bob Lemon gets the pitching nomination for the desperate Indians, and if he comes through to knock off the eager Sox, you can put it down as one of the great trouble-shooting jobs of baseball history.

Maybe Joe McCarthy's Red Sox don't have more than enough moose strength to go just barely around. But as long as Williams, the Splendid Splinter, and Vern Stephens, who once beat it off to Mexico, are around and about those Sox can be dynamic in any single encounter.

Williams, who has a stranglehold on his fourth American League batting crown (incidentally today's sudden-death tilt will be included in the averages), and shortstop Stephens are able to break up a game at any time.

Between them they spell power with a big 'P'. Keeping them cooled out will be the big headache for Lemon, or whoever goes to the firing line for the Indians. Just one bad toss, one heat that gets away when either Williams or Stephens is up there hitting, and the Indians will be thinking about next season.

The suggestion has been made that manager Boudreau may toss Feller right back into the fray. Such a display of confidence, coming close on his mediocre Sunday showing, might be just the spur required to make Feller come up with one of his great efforts.

And of course Feller at his best would wrap up those Sox . . . or any other team for that matter.

You Win—Or Else!

Pretty well submerged in the excitement drummed up by the nose-by-nose finish of the Indians and Red Sox were a number of other interesting developments as the regular schedule of the season wound up.

For one thing the Yankees did a quiet fadeout on Saturday and the manner of their going may cost Stanley (Buck) Harris his job. Harris (and there are reports that Boudreau is in the same dither) supposedly had to win the pennant to stay on as manager of the Bombers.

Being close up doesn't count in this case.

Johnny Mize belted his 40th homer for the Giants to draw even with Ben Kiener. Unbelievably this marked the second year in a row the pair of sluggers have deadheaded for home runs in the majors. In 1947 there was no separating them as each hit for the works on 51 occasions.

Also this marks the 25-year-old New Mexican Kiener's third straight term as home run king in the National loop. Here's a swashbuckler who may be the last at the dory of home run marks before he puts away his bats for keeps.

To conclude, it's interesting to note that at least two of the cast of touring major leaguers who showed at Renfrew Park in 1946 will make it to the World Series. Denny Galehouse and infielder Lou Stringer, the latter recently brought in from the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League.

Both made a fine impression while in the city two years ago.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—(CP)—A new deal in Canadian amateur sports may be the cards—uphold of Canada's top showing in the summer Olympic games and the recent first place in the Amateur Athletic Union and the Canadian Olympic Association.

Speculation over a change in policy directing sport cropped up during the winter games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, and also after the London games in August.

RUNNING INTO A 'BRICK WALL' is what Doug McNabb, EAC halfback, is about to do. It's a safe bet that Jack Rosa (21), captain of the Maple Leafs, will stop him cold. Leafs won the junior title Sunday, whipping the Chubmen 12-1.

HERE'S ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY FROM JOHN ANDRECHUK, EAC quarterback, yesterday. However he didn't get far as Leafs' Jim Stewart was in quick for the tackle.

Maple Leafs Cop Junior Grid Title

By Jim Algeo
The team that won did so because the team that lost just didn't get the breaks.

The Leafs' triumph over Maple Leafs today are perched on the city junior football throne by virtue of a 12-1 conquest of EAC's at Clarke Stadium Sunday afternoon.

while carrying the mail for Leafs' first touchdown in the second quarter, Andrechuk moved down EAC ballfitters right and left, and also scored the second margin, while Rosa truly too again was something to see.

The rugged Stewart turned in one of his best performances of the season, breaking up many an EAC play with some nifty tackling. It was actually Stewart, who played a star role in the Leafs' victory, who carried the Leafs to the top of the grid.

Leafs won the game 12-1, with Stewart's 12-1 yard strike being the only one of the game.

A SWEET THRUST After two or three subsequent plays Aubrey and Mendryk pulled off their nifty scoring effort from the EAC 17. The shift was to the left on the play, but Leafs created everybody up when Mendryk threw a backpass to Aubrey. He just breezed over, Dave Little's dropkick for the convert point failed.

Kushinski scored the only other major late in the second game when he dropped on the ball behind the EAC line after Doug McNabb momentarily fumbled one of Rosa's long boomerangs.

Rosedale Smatches Junior Baa Crown

Southerners Twice Drop Canadians 19-7 and 12-7

Rosedale Midlands can officially claim the Alberta junior baseball championship this morning.

It is a championship they themselves claim to have held for the past nine years, but only once in recent history has the north played the south for the title. That was in 1942 when the Midlands defeated an Edmonton team. Otherwise, there has been no provincial final to speak of, and almost anyone could have taken charge of the crown.

But the Midlands made no mistake this year. Sunday at Clarke Stadium they smashed Edmonton Canadians 19-7, 12-7 to win the best-of-five series, three games to nothing. Rosedale won the first game at home by a 11-0 score last week.

An overflow crowd of 700 witnessed the victory march. The march began at 12:30 p.m. and by six o'clock it had jumped over three Canadian pitchers for 31 runs and 34 hits.

The Canadians haven't been beaten so badly in three years as northern Alberta champions. Rosedale led 7-0 after two innings of the first game. However, the Reddies displayed sufficient recuperative power to score seven runs in the third inning and the score after five innings. But that was as close as they managed to get.

Midlands tallied three times in six innings, three more in the seventh, four in the eighth, and two in the ninth. The winning pitcher Ken Bailey was the victim of their early slugging attack and made way in the seventh for Tommy McGregor. Thomas faced 10 batters, 10 yielding nine runs and seven hits.

Keny Jim McKinnon scored five hits in six times at bat to lead Rosedale. He hit home runs in the seventh, eighth, and ninth. He hit home runs in the seventh, eighth, and ninth. He hit home runs in the seventh, eighth, and ninth.

TAKE YOUR PICK, ROLLINS OR FRANCIS

NORTH BAY, Ont., Oct. 4.—(CP)—Chicago Black Hawks weathered a last-period five-goal outburst by Kansas City Flyers Monday night in a United States Hockey League game and handily won Saturday night.

Emile (The Cat) Francis, fighting to retain his National Hockey League position with the Hawks, handled only 11 shots in the first two frames but was peppered in the final period. Rookie Al Rollins, last season with Edmonton's Allan Cup-winning Flyers, made 30 saves in the Kansas City nets.

Defencemen Ralph Natrass and forward Gabe Stewart sniped two goals each for the Hawks while the others were scored by Mety Prataly, George Gee, Adam Brown and Bill Gadaby, former Edmonton junior.

Young's 'Protection' Weighs 22 Pounds

You would think a fellow who weighed better than 200 pounds in his own right would be satisfied to let it go at that. However, it came out following Sunday's Flyer workout that Harvey (The Clutch) Young takes an additional twenty-two pounds or so of equipment with him every time he heads into action.

A certain heavy newspaper, after watching the Flyer belted spend upwards of 20 minutes shedding his tack, weighs him. The scales said 22 pounds. Young, who wears a harness, skates, rubber shirt (the long, identical to a certain well known baseball player—about-town), specially reinforced knickerbockers (and more and only-lad knees) and more had been lugged to the Fairbanks.

"No wonder the guy looks like Mountain Dean out there," someone remarked when it came out that the big bear was taking any unnecessary chances with Western Canada league forwards.

WATT 'FIXED' MICHALUK
There was more talk of 'badman' as the boys made for the supplies. Gordon Watt got to kidding Bill Maher about the time Al Michalak, then with Calgary, had fended him (Maher) with a crushing body check.

Young Airmen 'Buzz' South Side Park With Planes

BUDDING AIRCRAFT DESIGNER is young Sandy MacPhie of 11065 10th street who demonstrated his class "C" aircraft (town design) at Edmonton Model Aeronautics held a hang-up exhibition at South Side Park Sunday afternoon. Most aeronauts will move to new location at 116 avenue, just south of Kingsway for future air meets.

DOUBLE EFFORT of Bob Sagness, 14323 103 avenue and Bob Davidson, 10121 143 street, was finally successful in getting this model into air. Sunday's display was jointly sponsored by RCAF and Edmonton Recreation Commission designed to provide both hobbyists and spectators with clean, wholesome entertainment.

SAD SCENE here as young Jimmy Helge of 7901 84 avenue surveys remnants of his model which crashed early in the Sunday exhibition. Jimmy is sure he can put his craft back into shape before the next meet on Kingsway field. More than 50 young aircraft enthusiasts had part in the South Side display Sunday. —Photos by Blind

Big Hydro Plan For Mayo Likely

Pelly and Stewart Rivers
Surveyed For Sites

Great new hydro power development in the Yukon to furnish electrical energy to the silver and lead mines near Mayo seems likely today.

Dominion government engineers are making a preliminary survey of possible power sites on the Pelly and Stewart rivers in the interior of Yukon, about 250 air miles north and east of Whitehorse.

Arrival in the north this week by W. G. Stuart, assistant engineer in the North-West Territories, was seen as confirmation of hydro developments pending for the Yukon Territory.

Stuart, who is retained by Vellies Ltd. Mining Co. of Toronto, is said to have been commissioned to explore the Stewart and Pelly rivers for hydro sites.

The engineer was in Edmonton Sunday following his return from Yellowknife, where he was engineer in charge of the Stare River hydro project. Official opening of the first 8000 horse power unit at Stare River is scheduled for today.

Keens Hill Silver Mine Co. has been following the return from Yellowknife, where he was engineer in charge of the Stare River hydro project. Official opening of the first 8000 horse power unit at Stare River is scheduled for today.

Because of atomic energy progress, last by-products from the Keens Hill mines are assuming great importance.

An announcement about future hydro development in the Yukon is expected following the survey by Stuart.

Peace Route Meetings Planned Here

A working basis for co-operation between Edmonton and the Peace River area, in a drive for increased transportation for Peace River area, has been provided.

This was the general opinion of representatives of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce who completed a week-long journey throughout the Peace River area.

President F. G. Winspear of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce said work will begin immediately to obtain necessary information about a proposed arterial highway.

A suggestion by Mr. Winspear that a conference be held in Edmonton to consider the project was approved wholeheartedly by representatives of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade south of the Peace River.

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, said Mr. Winspear, is willing to support any unified effort in the part of the northern organizations.

UNITY NEEDED

He especially stressed the need for unity. The Edmonton Chamber, he said, will not support any effort which might result in a split in the Peace River country or which is based on prejudice in favor of any one community.

Of the proposed meeting he said, "We will need to be assured that our visitors will come with open minds and without prejudicial prejudices."

"There is a route to the Peace River country which is the best route," he declared. "It is our problem to find what that route is."

"We are prepared," promised Mr. Winspear, "to put all our influence and all our resources in an endeavor to solve this great problem of arterial highway development projects in the Peace River country."

The arterial route, he said, should be selected on the basis of popular economics, agriculture and engineering feasibility.

COLLECT DATA

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce took upon itself the task of collecting this information for the purpose of a conference, which it hoped, will be held some time this winter.

Winspear stressed the necessity for delegates to the conference to be men of business and not about possible routes for the road.

He explained that in every district, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce were presented with reasons for the road should be a particular area.

"It is necessary," he said, to forget the local prejudices and select the route which experts pick as most valuable to the whole area."

Gone Are the Days Of the Penny Candy

By Pat McVean

Seventeen thousands of Edmonton's children live in gross ignorance of one of the greatest pleasures of childhood.

They have never pressed eager faces or pointed fingers against the glass-front of a candy showcase and watched the respective merits of the chocolate bar, the sugared acropolis, the licorice jelly or the candied milk bottle.

Born after 1941, when the Dominion government imposed a 10 per cent time excise tax which curtailed the production of penny candy, they've waited three years after the end of the war without knowing this delight of childhood.

Local candy manufacturers say they wait at least another year, possibly longer.

Only action on the part of the adult public, many of whom still cherish the memory of the traditional candy counter with its boxes and boxes of three, four and five penny goodies, will affect the government's attitude towards the lifting of the excise tax on candy.

"A few letters from the public to Ottawa officials recently, when removing the excise tax on candy was considered, would have swung the balance in favor of tax on candy," one local manufacturer told The Bulletin today.

"It's the fault that the adults—who do without candy these days because the low priced lines are gone," he added.

In the pre-excite tax days most candy firms manufactured at least eight lines of cent candy. Retail merchants did between 17 and 20 per cent of their business on the penny goods, and the youngsters with two or three copper coins could come away from the candy store pockets and cheeks bulging with goodies.

BLACK FAVORITES

He was offered a wealth of choice. The hard black bar was much favored. At four-for-a-penny it changed color as it was eaten, and required much sucking from the mouth for observation.

The candied milk block, similarly priced, and the thick-stemmed licorice pipe with its light bluish pink resin candles, obtained for one cent, were also popular.

Dr. E. J. H. Greene, professor of languages at the University of Alberta, will address a meeting of the Edmonton Branch of the United Nations Society, at the First Baptist Church, 307 street and 102 avenue, Monday, October 4, at 8 p.m.

He graduated from U. of A. in 1945, receiving the Harrison Memorial prize in obstetrics, and last year did research work in basic sciences at the university.

Dr. Haines is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity and took an active interest in student affairs.

ATTENTION TIPPLERS: HERE'S GOOD NEWS

Some slight downward adjustment of liquor prices may be contained in the new Alberta Liquor Control Board price list, chairman of the board, A. J. Mason told The Bulletin today.

Release of the new price list will be made soon. Mr. Mason's statement followed a report from Winnipeg announcing ten to 20 per cent decreases in imported Scotch whiskey prices, and decreases of as much as one dollar in prices of French wines and liquors.

Lower Winnipeg prices were announced by the Manitoba Liquor Commission.

Alberta prices of liquor are now under consideration, Mr. Mason said, and it may be possible to make some slight decreases when the new price list is released.

Passion Play Opens In City Tomorrow

The world's greatest stage hit, the famous "Black Hills Passion Play", will open Tuesday in Edmonton for an 11-day run at the Strand Theatre.

Brought to Edmonton by the City of Edmonton and separate school boards and students will be admitted to these presentations at reduced prices.

Tickets to all performances are now on sale at Heintzmann's.

Permits for new house construction totalled 57 and were valued at $147,800. Forty-seven permits were issued for house repairs and alterations which were valued at $20,400.

Commercial construction in the area this year is valued at $20,400 and includes four permits for new commercial construction and three for repairs.

Nineteen permits for miscellaneous construction and repairs were valued at $6,300.

MANNING PRIZES

Premier Manning, who will attend the opening performance, awarded the Rotary Club for its "splendid community service in making it possible for Edmontonians to see the world-famous play."

Running time of the production is 1½ hours and tons of scenery and electrical equipment are carried by the company.

Just Meier, trained since boyhood for the role as the Christus, leads the large cast in the Biblical dramatization. His wife, the former Mary.

Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. from Tuesday to October 16, with the exception of Sunday, October 18. Seven special student matinees have been arranged with the cooperation of the city.

Haddad Piano Recital Proves Disappointing

Canadian pianist George Haddad presented a one and one-half hour recital Saturday afternoon in the Masonic Temple in his first Edmonton appearance.

It was the initial concert in the season's series of the Women's Musical Club. About 400 persons attended.

Mr. Haddad's concert was unimpressive. His playing was the kind that leaves you musing idly, wondering when intermission will come so you can go out in the hall for a smoke.

His good points do not outweigh his bad.

Too frequently Mr. Haddad was weak and ineffectual at the keyboard, much like his arrangement of God Save the King—which he seemed to forget in an anthem after all, and should be played as such.

Mr. Haddad made mistakes as a result of too speedy playing, and he overused the pedal. However, his tone was good, at times worthy of the highest commendation.

CANADIAN MUSIC GOOD

I enjoyed his playing of Debussy's Poissons d'Or, and four Syrian folk songs, arranged by him and presented for the first time on the Canadian concert stage.

Best of all, I thought, were his renditions of Romen's brilliant Dark and Light, and the Moravetz Sonata, Op. 57 (the Appassionata), too quickly. It was also speed that spoiled his two encores, the familiar Debussy Clair de Lune and Malagena, by Liszt.

I gather that opinion on Mr. Haddad's concert varied greatly among those who heard him, and this diversity was evident at recess time, when an unusual situation arose.

League Meeting

A special meeting of the McKernan District Community League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Community hall, 77 avenue and 114 street.

Water Beetles Litter Streets Sunday Night

Millions of corpses virtually covered the streets on downtown Jasper avenue Sunday night.

No, it wasn't the aftermath of an atomic explosion, but merely the mutilated bodies of harmless beetles.

The explanation from a local entomologist (biologist to you) for this strange sight, was based on what is known as phototaxis, response of the beetles.

They are commonly known as water beetles, normally flying at night in search of water. Due to the reflection of the lights on the sidewalk, the beetles are under the impression instinctively that this is a large expanse of water. They then prepare for their last and fatal dive into what they believe is water, destroying themselves on the concrete.

Budgeting Forces
Use of Imagination

By Bea Thrifty

In time with the old song—"Every Cloud Must Have A Silver Lining"—there is at least one good result of the high cost of food.

When it is a question of stretching the budget—or else—homemakers are using their imagination as often as they use their egg beater.

Leftovers are never discarded any longer. If there is a meat patty left over from yesterday's dinner, it's minced, heated with tomatoes, cooked celery and onion . . . then served with baking powder biscuits as a shortcake.

It's amazing how you can stretch an itty, bitty piece of meat, if you feel you really have to.

When I was but a less, dear old Mother had more than a bit of trouble getting me to don the snuggies of a frosty morn.

But today things are different. Won't be long before our mutual acquaintance, Jack Frost comes to preside over his domain . . . and guess who's going to be really prepared . . . me.

I'm away today to pick up three or four pair of snuggies, the bugbear of my youth.

As a matter of fact, I'm going to spend $1.25 on each pair, although there are a few odd pairs around and about for $1. The $1.25 kind seem to be of a firmer weave.

There's something about grey flannel dresses with accents of scarlet that makes a girl feel very, very chic and attractive.

Saw a pretty grey piece of material for only $1.38 per yard (40 inches wide) that would make a wonderful dress-for-the-office.

The scarlet flannel for a chemise is available at $1.35 per yard.

It always makes me seem-ming.

Hired a crafty little salad idea I've picked up somewhere in passing.

It's called a lettuce roll salad . . . and this is a layer of lettuce, cream cheese and mix thoroughly with minced ham and a bit of relish. Spread a layer of this mixture on individual leaves of lettuce.

Form into rolls and chill. Cut into 1 inch lengths and serve three or four lettuce with French dressing . . . or Thousand Island dressing.

If you're looking for some delectable light to serve with that party salad . . . try this: It's hearty, but good . . . mmmmm.

Make your favorite baking powder biscuit dough, using slightly more than usual amount of shortening. Cut the dough into rounds to fit sizes of spoon.

Spread tops of the biscuit rounds with mustard. Make biscuit rounds and meat into sandwiches, then seal the edges.

Spread tops of the biscuit rounds lightly with butter, then bake in a hot oven till lightly browned.

Serve piping hot and watch the envy in the eyes of your bridge club gal.

Money sales are wonderful to pop into friend's hands for lunch or a glass of sweet delight.

As you can buy them at THAT bakery.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a student nurse, 19 years old and have been in training for about a year, but I find that I have lost all interest in my profession and I want to leave the school and go back to college and finish the stenographic course which I started at one time. Anyway, I don't like nursing.

WHY GROW OLD

No Woman Satisfied
With Her Own Figure

By Josephine Lowman

I have never known a woman who was entirely pleased with her figure. As a matter of fact, women have a tendency to exaggerate rather than underestimate those little bulges and rolls that make us feel old and awkward.

Because most of the figure faults we have can be stopped in their tracks if they are attacked soon enough and all of them can be improved.

Even in very young women we sometimes see the first shadow of the matronly figure which is to come. The most usual are a little bulge at the thighs, a slight double chin, a little pad of fat on a formerly flat tummy and a slight thickening through the waistline.

There are many splendid and effective exercises for the various defects in our figure. Today I am going to give you an exercise for waist slimming. This exercise is also good for fat below the waistline, at the sides on the upper hip.

Stand erect with your feet comfortably separated. Raise your arms upward, overhead. Bend your trunk to the left and as you do so swing your hips as far to the right as you can. Raise your trunk. This time bend it to the right and swing your hips as far toward the left as possible. Raise trunk. Your arms remain overhead throughout the exercise.

Continue, alternating left and right. When doing this exercise do not bend directly to the side but a little forward so that you feel the pull over the opposite side. Do not hurry this motion but take time to feel the stretch it creates.

Children's Questions
Show Need for Attention

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Between the ages of 3 and 5 the child is a perpetual question asker. His why and why not are almost automatic reactions to any declarative statement. Sometimes, the questions merit an honest and informative answer. Sometimes, they may be ignored.

But neither answered nor ignored should be the constant questioning of the child who follows his mother from room to room and cannot bear to be separated from her. Questions are the easy way for the child to nail her attention. When the mother tries to brush them off, her conscience tells her that she is wrong. Doesn't everyone say that a child's questions should be answered?

In this case it is obvious that the child does not want information, he wants companionship. Is he alone too much with her and lacks the ability to get along with children of his own age? Are there other children in the family who stand in higher favor so that when they are absent this one has to redouble his efforts to get parental notice?

Does the child feel insecure? Maybe parental quarrelling fills him with anxiety. So he clings to his mother, using every excuse to get her undivided attention, for only when she is close to him does he feel any reassurance of his anxiety.

The alert parent may be suspicious of the child's need for mitigation of his anxiety, when his questions are persistent, but vague, unanswerable and sometimes silly.

This should be enough to tell the mother that it isn't information the child wants, but soothing words, and she will know what these should be since she will also know what situations in the home are breeding anxiety.

What the child needs is to be played with, talked to, read to and an interest shown in his activities. This is the medicine that will be more successful in ending his persistent questioning than tact or casual answers.

Grand Slam Made,
But It Takes Doing

By William E. McKeeney

Today's hand is one of the most popular problems handed in the country. Periodically it is sent to me by people who want to know if I can figure out the solution. The other day it was sent in by Mr. Robert Frederick of Delmar, N.Y.

My parents object to this and think that I should go on with my training as a nurse. Do you think that I am crazy to give up the work that I am so interested in and do something that I like to do?

ANSWER: No, I don't. I think the most important thing in every boy's and girl's life is to try to find out what they are still in school. If possible, what Nature intended them to do. All of us have some aptitude, some one thing that we enjoy doing and are interested in doing, and our success, or failure, depends upon whether we get our aptitude placed in the scheme of things, or not.

There is a famous painting called "The Light of the World." It shows Christ knocking at the door of a humble dwelling.

When the artist, Holman Hunt, completed it, a critic turned to him and said: "There is an error in your painting. You have forgotten to put a latch on the door."

"There should be no latch on that door," said the artist. "It is the door to the human heart. It can be opened only from within."

Sometime, during the next few days, there will be a knock on your door.

It will be a neighbor soliciting for your Community Chest and its Red Feather services. When he calls, we hope your door will open wide for him. We hope, too, you will open your heart and give generously.

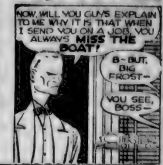

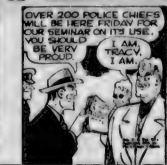

It means so much to so many.

FOR DEEPLY CONTEMPLATIVE or spiritual type women, Hollywood dreamed up this halo hat being modelled by singer Jo Stafford. Its yellow base gives off phosphorescent light and Hopkins says it gives the wearer "an air of serenity and inviolability" as well as one of detachment.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Larry Parks is at it again. The Olathe, Kansas, actor once more is stepping into the well-worn shoes of Al Jolson for a sequel to the mammy-singer's film biography. I found Larry stripped to his shorts after a spirited session of Jolson-mugging.

"People don't realize what hard work this is," he panted. He demonstrated how he works.

After turning on a phonograph, he steps before two huge mirrors, affording a front and side view. Jolson's voice booms the song "Baby Face" through the small rehearsal room and Larry watches himself mouth the words, grimace, gesture and cavor.

A LOT OF JOLSON

The number of times he listens to a number runs into the hundreds. That's a lot of Jolson when you consider there are 20 to 30 songs in the new picture, "Jolson Sings Again."

Larry said he gets to the studio himself mouth the words, grimace, gesture and cavor.

at night. Not only that, he also does some listening at home.

"I have to play the phonograph quite loud," he said, and it's driving his wife, Betty Garrett, somewhat batty. "Jasky! It's getting along toward winter so I can keep the windows shut and not bother the neighbors too much."

BETTER STORY

Remembering Larry's aversion toward repeating the role, I asked him what changed his mind. "It's a better story," he declared. "I saw the old picture again recently and I realized it really wasn't very good. Except for the last

Peruvian Sailors Revolt at Lima

Government Sends Troops And Planes Into Battle

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Sailors, aided by armed civilians, rebelled today in Callao, the port of Lima, and the government sent loyal troops, supported by tanks and planes, to battle the revolutionaries.

Skirmishes with civilians also were reported in Lima.

In mid-afternoon the government decreed a state of siege (similar to martial law) and asked citizens to retire to their homes. It said any assemblies would be dispersed by force.

A communique said the civilians were Apurimac, members of Apra, the people's party, which is in opposition to the policies of President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero. The president issued a decree suspending all civil rights following an emergency meeting of the cabinet.

The revolution flared at 3 a.m. and eight hours later an official statement said loyal troops were controlling La Punta seaside resort. This indicated the government held the situation under control, although the fighting in Callao was continuing and the rebels appeared to be in command of some naval units.

Normal conditions prevailed in Lima and traffic was reestablished with Callao, which adjusts the regular.

The government communique said sailors landing from warships and armed civilians attacked the barracks of the 29th regiment and police headquarters in Callao, but did not succeed in capturing them. At La Punta, the sailors arrested the chiefs of the naval academy and naval armory and took possession of both buildings.

The civilians attacked the telephone company headquarters in Lima and interrupted service. They fled when loyal troops appeared leaving behind them some machine guns.

Air Raid Shelter Demolition Halts

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(Reuters)—Local authorities in Bolton and Hull have been advised by the Home Office to stop the demolition of air raid shelters for the time being. It was learned yesterday a couple of zeppelins, which were good, it tried to cover too much ground.

HOPE QUIP

Bob Hope, planning to plane out Thursday to see his Cleveland Indians in the world series, was quipping about his relationship with the team.

"My only regret is that I didn't take a bigger piece of the club when I had the chance. With my present tiny plane, I'm entitled to keep all foul balls that land near my seat in the bleachers."

Strike Threatens Queuille Gov't

Coal Production Paralyzed Throughout Northern France

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The shaky coalition government of Premier Henri Queuille was threatened today by a strike of about 350,000 Communist-led miners which paralyzed coal production throughout northern France.

Communist strike leaders rejected government overtures for a truce, which Queuille had hoped to limit the walkout to 48 hours, and the general confederation of labor (CGT) branded the government's offer a "last-minute manoeuvre designed to deceive the workers and public opinion."

NO VIOLENCE
No violence was reported as the strike took 100 per cent effect in the northern and northwestern coal fields, but the government alerted mobile guards, and equipped riotous troops with full battle kit.

The strike cut French coal production by about 130,000 tons a day. It was estimated. The government said the French railroads have coal for 42 days, and most industries and public services also have stocks for about a month and a half.

Miners of the non-Communist Christian miners' federation and the workers' federal union generally stayed away from the pits, but they denounced the demands of the Communist CGT to prolong the strike indefinitely, and planned to return to work Western day.

LAST-MINUTE OFFER
The government made a last-minute offer to the miners yesterday when Robert Lacoste, minister of commerce, said the government was willing to continue discussion of workers' demands for 40 per cent wage increases and job security.

Lacoste also offered various special allocations, increases in seniority pay, and reclassification of some workers. But the Communist leaders, angered by rising living costs and economy cuts in social personnel, would not accept the offer. They said workers would stay out until they got satisfaction of their demands.

The mines affected by the strike are government-owned. They provide the bulk of French coal supplies.

Coal Output Figures Show Big Increase

Alberta coal output during August increased by 92,572 tons over the same period last year, with a total production of 707,106 tons for the month.

Production figures were released today by John Crawford, chief inspector of mines for provincial government.

Despite the August increase, production of coal in Alberta during the first eight months of 1948 is 5,682,621 tons less than was for the same length of time in 1947.

Miner's strike early in 1948 is blamed for the overall decrease. Heaviest increase in production during August, 1948, came from bituminous fields at Cascade, Highwood, Nordegg, Crownsnest, Mountain Park, Cochrane, Hinton, Lehigh, Nordegg, Pelican, Pincher, Prairie Creek and Saunders.

Production rose from 598,533 during August, 1947 to 470,838 during August, 1948.

Sub-bituminous fields, including Edmonton, Pembina, Wainwright, Whitecourt, Camrose, High Prairie, Tooland and Westlock, showed less substantial increases.

Production rose from 216,770 to 251,748 tons for the comparative periods.

Mackenzie King Marks Anniversary

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King yesterday marked a 50-year anniversary. The 73-year-old Canadian leader paid a quiet visit to the tomb of Louis Pasteur, French scientist, at the Pasteur Institute. He was accompanied by his secretary, Edward Hendy.

Twenty years ago Saturday, while in Paris on League of Nations work, the prime minister placed a wreath on Pasteur's tomb.

British Reds Plan Colonial Campaign

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—R. Palmer Dutt, vice-chairman of the British Communist party, announced Saturday night a Communist campaign to support the rising tide of the Communist CGT in France. He accused the government of "treason" in the opposing Communism in Malaya, the Middle East and Africa.
